

WASHINGTONVILLE
WRITE-UPS

By Peter M. Herold.

The Entertainment Course opens tonight. J. L. Fitzpatrick and wife spent Sunday in Salem.

James McFee of Austintown was here Saturday with former neighbors.

All Woods and daughter of Cleveland visited his parents here Thursday.

John Berry, brother of B. B. shaft mine at Salem, was home Sunday.

Fred Bossert and the Richard brothers were here from Alliance Sunday.

There will be preaching in the M. E. Church next Sunday morning and evening.

Harvey Beck and wife, who was Miss Howell, of Columbiana, were here Sunday.

John and Henry Simpson were home from Cleveland and Pittsburgh a few days.

Miss Lucy Brown of East Palestine was a Sunday visitor at the home of J. D. Smith.

John Pasch was home from Kaylor, Pa., over Sunday visiting his parents and sister.

Andrew Ballantyne and wife of Leetonia visited Sunday with Wm. T. Smith and wife.

James Barnes and wife of Salem spent Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. R. E. Shafersnacker.

John Moore and wife of New Waterford visited Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Howard Russell.

There were two printing office mistakes in our news items last week, but so clearly noticeable as to need no further mention here.

The Columbia Iron & Wire Works Co. of Canton has completed the erection of the iron fire escapes at the south side of the school building.

Miss Mae Hurst and brother Louis of Lydon and George Smedley of New York spent Sunday at the home of his brother, Herbert Smedley.

Mrs. Hannah Stouffer and sister, Mrs. Jos. Zuk, of Leetonia spent a day near East Lewistown at the home of their sister, Mrs. Jack Frankford.

The Leetonia news items in The Dispatch are interesting to our readers and are the evident outgrowth of an increased circulation in our sister village.

R. B. Maxwell has already gathered several bushels of chestnuts on his farm and sold them for $4 a bushel. Had the entire farm been a chestnut grove the first year's crop would have paid for the farm.

Dennis Sullivan of Coshocton, state vice president of the U. M. W. A., spent Sunday with friends here. He was a former resident of this village and needs no formal introduction to most of our citizens.

Chas. Stouffer and Miss Sadie Spear, Wm. Bell and wife, Hugh Dalrymple and Miss Maggie Warren were among those from here to see "On the Frontier" in the Salem opera house Saturday night.

It cost $25,383.13 to keep the poor of Columbiana county the past year. Out of the number in the infirmary, 182 were wholly illiterate, 182 being able to read and write, while 182 had received a higher education.

George Summerville and Howard Russell went squirrel hunting by electric line Saturday and when about half way to Leetonia they took to the woods with their guns and came home at night with eight trophies.

Congressman Kennedy has written an ingenious profession of faith for Mr. Tark in which a trinitarian is made of a Unitarian. This is still more difficult task to make a protectionist out of a freetrader, or 16 out of 1. Anything to be ready for a Thanksgiving proclamation.

Mollie and Girard have moved from Gil Taylor's house into Ab Stouffer's property on West Main street, and Raymond Lewis will occupy the Taylor house thus vacated. Mrs. Copperditch has moved from the Susan Cope house to the Bossert property vacated by Jas. Atkinson, Jr.

M. J. Buck, proprietor of the old McNab shaft mine, has been sued for $10,000 damages by John Ashman, a track layer, who claims that he was permanently injured by a fall of slate in the defendant's mine while in the discharge of his duty, and that the defendant knew the roof was unsafe.

David Klingensmith has polio this precinct of Green township, outside of Washingtonville, and finds 75 voters, 20 of whom were obtained at Millville. He has placed 50 in the republican column and the others with the democrats, the socialists and the prohibitionists. These 75 added to the 70 on the north side in town gives a total of 145.

The Lutheran church here made the usual sized audience Sunday night when Rev. Kast preached from Martin Luther's favorite Psalm, XLVI, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." From this Psalm Luther is thought to have gotten the inspiration to compose the familiar hymn, "A mighty fortress is our God, a bulwark never failing." Rev. Kast did his subject justice and the choir also did well, especially in their rendition of the anthem.

Our newly organized band has the encouragement of the village, and the boys are not slow to appreciate the popular feeling in that direction. A new bass horn has been bought for Wilbert DeJano at a cost of $100; fifteen nickel-plated music racks have been secured at a cost of 85 cents each. L. H. Dehl of Lowellville has secured work at the Millville mine and will give the band the benefit of his knowledge of music. To increase their treasury the band will give a Halloween dance on the last night of this month. Every honest means will be employed to make this band a permanent adjunct to the village.

Mrs. George Barlow and daughter Sarah and their father-in-law, Richard Barlow, of Trenton, N. J., Ambrose Weber, wife and son Leonard of East Liverpool came here Sunday in an automobile, and with Fred Anderson and wife had an enjoyable time through the village while visiting their mother and sister, Mrs. Andrew Maxwell and daughter, Miss Jennie, not forgetting R. B. Maxwell of Rose Cottage. The New Jersey people were especially delighted with the fine fall weather and the variegated woods of the village. The familiar scenes around Washingtonville brought back many fond recollections which their infancy knew.

Thos. J. Heaton was in Salem Tuesday. Miss Kate Simpson is employed at Greenford this week.

Mrs. John Carroll of Greenford visited her mother at Salem.

Miss Mary Watson entertained the Fanny Work club Tuesday night.

Read Ballantine's advertisement in other columns of today's Dispatch.

Mrs. J. D. Felch of Locust Grove visited friends here Saturday afternoon.

Elmer Warner has laid a concrete walk across his front lawn to his house.

Mrs. R. E. Shafersnacker was in Pittsburgh Wednesday selecting a stock of millinery.

C. E. Letonette and wife and Mrs. John Fieldhouse were in Salem Saturday night.

Taxpayers time is here again and the county treasurer's office will receive tax money until Dec. 20.

Lee Matzenberg was again successful in taking the silver trophy at Taylor's shooting gallery Saturday night.

Main street is at present a popular thoroughfare for carriages and autos on Sunday between Columbiana and Salem.

The street leading south of the school building and the intersection of Union and Boston street have been improved during the past week.

Joseph H. Tellow, residing at Enley, Alabama, has been sent to the Ohio State Prison by John Needham of this village for $300 borrowed money.

Chas. Blackburn of the Erie force out of Youngstown was 25 years old Monday, so he donned his Sunday clothes and came home to eat chicken and squirrel at his mother's table.

Libson is to get two mails a day over the Y. & O. R. The city board of trade will pay the mail messenger for carrying the mail to and from the post office and the electric station.

Four and a half miles passed through here Saturday afternoon and another one Sunday going south. They were in the usual caravan mode of travel, but did not stop to tell fortunes.

Miss Ella Kothe as impersonator and dialect reader and Miss Bernice Morehouse as violinist will give the first number in the Entertainment Course in the Methodist church tonight.

Thos. Prosser, John Waters and a committee of Pelee's miners effected an agreement of settlement of their differences Sunday forenoon, and the miners returned to work Monday morning.

Over an acre of stubble on the Simpson farm between the fish pond and the school building was burned Sunday. It required heroic fighting to keep the fire away from the barn and outbuildings.

Rev. H. A. Rindard of Leetonia and Rev. Kast of this village will exchange pulpits at Greenford Sunday.

Rindard has preached here before and will likely be greeted by a large audience Sunday night.

G. W. Ballantine has been appointed administrator of Richard Deegan late of Leetonia, who gave bond for $20,000, secured by James Dugan and B. F. Ballantine. The appraisers are Geo. Weidinger, Archie Ferguson and D. W. Holtz.

The fire ring for the school building has arrived and will be placed in position Saturday. It will be so arranged that the alarm can be sounded from all the rooms and from the basement; but it is to be hoped that it will never be needed except for drill purposes.

W. S. Anderson of Youngstown is announced to address a republican meeting here next week Thursday night. The G. O. P. should invite the Foraker marching club and serve coffee and sandwiches that night. Washingtonville is on the map and ought to be respected.

Tony Pasch, writing from Chi Foo, China, under date of Sept. 12, says that their fleet had sailed for Port Arthur, but the Japs would not allow them to enter the port, so they returned to Chi Foo and will wait for a chance where they will meet their fleet of battleships and soon sail for New York. He desires his brother John to meet him in New York and see the largest fleet on Atlantic waters. The letter is back-stamped in China, Japan, Hawaii, San Francisco and Washingtonville.

The silver wedding anniversary of George Vaughn and wife was celebrated at their home Tuesday night, when a complete surprise was sprung upon them by neighbors and friends from this village from Leetonia and from their former home at Lowellville. Their children had evidently arranged the affair, as it was not known to the parents until it opened upon them like a cloud-burst. About 50 persons participated, and their stock of furniture is increased as a result. The enjoyment of the evening was complete and extended far into the night, with wishes of a golden wedding next time.

Since the "wet" and "dry" question has been settled in Columbiana county, and may also receive the same treatment in Mahoning county, leaving the village of Washingtonville on a "dry" land, yet the subject will continue to be a matter of much interest. And to settle a question of lawful right growing out of it in this vicinity we quote from Finance, published in Cleveland, which says: "The present local option law of Ohio provides that where a vote is cast in favor of the manufacturing of liquor may continue in that district or county. The brewery or distillery, however, which does manufacture in the district cannot sell any of its products within its district. If Cuyahoga county should vote dry the Cleveland and Sandusky Brewing Co. may continue the manufacture of beer in the county, but would be prohibited by law from selling in the county. There is nothing, however, to prevent shipping their beer to an outside depot, selling in original packages to householders in Cleveland," nor from selling Leetonia made beer to householders in Washingtonville.

Woman Interrupts Political Speaker. A well dressed woman interrupted a political speaker recently by continually coughing. If she had taken Foley's Honey and Tar it would have cured her cough quickly and expelled the cold from her system. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and is a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. John Taber, Canfield.

To the crow all crows are beautiful.

POLITICAL POINTS
POINTEDLY PUT

The Peerless One appeared.

There were no hired marchers.

The Mahoning needs fumigation.

Who composed the nutting party?

And all the mills worked full time.

Who were the conspirators, Marty?

Lawyers' clients should learn English.

Heartst has not been invited to speak here.

Elect legislators that are worth their mileage.

Wonder if the Leadville shaft has gone dry.

Why have the clergy snubbed the Hon. Huey?

The Mahoning has ceased to run; it is merely cozing.

Who is the heir-apparent to the police indignity?

Will the chief stop the ministers from talking politics in the pulpit?

Straw hats have largely vanished but the straw vote is still with us.

Possibly the chief is afraid of incendiary speeches these dry times.

Some of the old time politicians are afraid Salt River has dried up.

When Taft arrives Our Jim will reach the zenith of human happiness.

The wets and drys are beginning to line up for battle in this county.

The Bryan meeting made the republican leaders do some deep thinking.

What makes Dr. John remain so silent during all this turmoil and strife?

Chairman E. H. Moore is keeping the enemy's camp in a continual state of worry.

When East Youngstown is incorporated how much will "preferred stock" be worth?

When Dr. Kotheimer
